buyCASTINGS Inc. Teams up with the Rapid Prototyping Industry to Bring Customers Full Production Capability

Dayton, Ohio, (May 14, 2001) -- buyCASTINGS Inc., an Ohio based Business Services and Manufacturing Outsourcing Company, has teamed-up with the Rapid Prototyping industry to provide it's end customers with full production capabilities for metal castings. As an independent, worldwide representative for over 300 foundries and growing, buyCASTINGS can provide multiple, quick quotes for any material made by any of the casting processes.

buyCASTINGS is partnering with several of the suppliers and service providers in the product development, rapid prototyping, and rapid tooling areas to provide their end customers with not only design optimization, prototype parts, and rapid tooling but also meet their full production needs. This partnership will help the RP service bureaus, for instance, have direct access to metal casting experts that can help them and their valued customers with choice, convenience and multiple competitive quotes for any type of casting production order. At www.buyCASTINGS.com the RP industry and all it's buyers can now get all casting orders made from the largest universe of pre-qualified foundries in the world. "Most importantly, this will allow our participating RP companies to finally get a piece of the action when their customer goes to full production" according to Bob Dzugan, founder and President of buyCASTINGS.

buyCASTINGS is an independent business-to-business (B2B) e-marketplace where, buyers/designers, foundries, and suppliers to the metal casting industry come together as a community to take advantage of the efficiencies of e-Commerce. buyCASTINGS facilitates business-to-business e-commerce for the metal casting industry. Please contact Mr. Neil Chaudhry at nchaudhry@buyCASTINGS.com or call 1-866-buyCASTINGS to learn more about the partnership programs and how RP companies can team up with buyCASTINGS to better serve their customers AND earn fees off of the production orders.
